How to Play

Welcome to the language tree game!
The rules are simple and it's a fun and interactive way to show where languages came from and to see where CLV's offered languages fall on this tree.

Objective: The world language tree has the origins of many (not quite all) of the major world languages. Depending on the language's roots determines where it came from (For example, on the “Germanic tree” stems numerous northern and central European languages which are all somewhat related). The game’s object is to place CLV offered languages correctly on the blank spots on the tree.
