3. Expressing Preferences and Opinions

Journal your own experiences, including the date, where you were, with whom you spoke and what you expressed.

When asked, I can respond with "I like/don't like it."

I can ask and respond to questions about my likes and dislikes.

I can share with someone my personal preferences and opinions with simple reasons.

I can share with someone my personal preferences and opinions, offering detailed explanations to support my opinions.

I can provide a detailed rationale or argument to support my opinion on a wide variety of topics.