

Homey!?! Where is the Homey?

Fine Arts Council filthy rich

By Hugo, Kathy, Lisa, and Doug

The Media uncovered some disturbing news in the Council of Fine Arts. The 200 Homies for advertisement went to the Fine Art Council, but they just pay their members 8 Homies per day and they have no bank account for save it. Also, the City Council has paid out an undisclosed amount in grant money that has never been accounted for in bank transfers. Maybe the Fine Arts Council are hiding their income to avoid tax laws?!? "We've got a lot of money," FAC member Dnna said. "We're rich."

Some of our reporters asked for an official statement from Council of Fine Arts officials about their financial status on Wednesday. When we went to the Guggenheim we were sent to the current dancing group, as the people directly at the Guggenheim were unable to provide us with any usable information. But the people down at the Lobby simply shrugged and said they couldn't help us either. Archie continued to misdirect us and we were left with the impression that they have something to hide. Nobody is saying anything. What are they hiding? Why isn't the City Council asking questions about the grants or double checking FAC financial statements?

City Council going bankrupt, sets high taxes

The Mayor Naomi and Treasurer Lief

By Hugo

The Media received information from an unknown person in the Chamber of Commerce that the City Council has spent 500 Homies on salaries and 200 Homies on campaign advertising. In contrast, they have only made 500 Homies selling properties (Rooms). Most of the City Council's money has gone to the Council of Fine Arts. So why should the villagers pay such high taxes when the taxes seem to only go for the salaries and advertisements? We talked to the treasurer Lief and our mayor Naomi about that and they said they have to pay for grants and without the high taxes the City Council will be soon bankrupt. Maybe the City Council should lower the salaries for their members and spend less money on posters from the Fine Arts Council? The media for example has only paid out 300 Homey in salaries and owes its workers for three unpaid days. We also asked Lief and Naomi what will happen if someone refuses to pay the high taxes. They said they have to discuss taxes and the laws that will enforce them. Later they came to collect taxes, Austin refused and told them to take the media to court.
